

submit – to give in to someone’s power representative – a person chosen to speak for others qualify – to make or become fit for a certain kind of work postpone – delay something legislature – a group of people elected to make or change laws satisfactory – good enough but not outstanding attorney – a person who acts for another person in legal matters colonel – a rank of military officer